St. Ann's Cenacle of Eucharistic Apostles of the Divine Mercy

invites you to join them on Good Friday, April 2th through Divine Mercy Sunday, April 11th at 3PM for the recitation of the DIVINE MERCY NOVENA. The Lord Jesus Himself dictated the intentions for each day of the novena. By means of each specific prayer, we bring to His Heart a different group of souls each day and immerse them in the ocean of His Mercy.

A plenary indulgence, granted under the usual conditions (sacramental confession, Eucharistic communion, and prayer for the intentions of the Supreme Pontiff) to the faithful who, on the Second Sunday of Easter or Divine Mercy Sunday, in any church or chapel, in a spirit that is completely detached from the affection for a sin, even a venial sin, take part in the prayers and devotions held in honor of Divine Mercy, or who, in the presence of the Blessed Sacrament exposed or reserved in the tabernacle, recite Our Father and the Creed, adding a devout prayer to the merciful Lord Jesus (e.g., Merciful Jesus, I trust in You!);

Notes from Fr. Keith, 03/14/2010

Mark Twain wrote a controversial story toward the end of his life entitled The War Prayer. It was about a church service sending troops to war, when a mysterious stranger walked it, telling them that there were 2 prayers being offered: one for success for their troops and an unspoken prayer calling for catastrophic failure and Divine abandonment of their foes. He challenged them to acknowledge the unspoken prayer, but they thought he was crazy.

When we pray for blessings for ourselves or others we care for, we need to examine our intentions. Do we have a right to ask God to ignore anyone's pleas for His aid in order to give us what we want? Our intentions aren't as dramatic as Twain spoke of, but we do need to be sure that our prayers are not prayers for the failure or refusal of another's legitimate need. I would genuinely fear the consequences of such a prayer for me, both in this world and the next.
