A Healing Prayer of Forgiveness

Jesus, through the power of the Holy Spirit, go back into my memory as I sleep.

Every hurt that has ever been done to me. ...heal
that hurt.

Every hurt that I have ever caused to another person. ...heal that hurt.

All the relationships that have been damaged in my whole life that I am not aware of. ... heal those relationships.

But Lord, if there is anything that I need to do. ...if I need to go to a person because he is still suffering from my hand, bring to my awareness that person.
I choose to forgive, and I ask to be forgiven. Remove whatever bitterness may be in my heart, Lord, and fill the empty spaces with your Love. Thank You Jesus. Amen 'If we really want to love, we must learn how to forgive'. - Mother Theresa.

Notes from Fr. Keith 1/16/11

Alessandro Serenelli was a young Italian who fatally stabbed Maria Goretti multiple times because she would not submit to his advances. Convicted to prison, he was an unrepentant prisoner for three years until the local bishop visited him, and admitted in a thank you note to the bishop admitted Maria gave him lilies that burned in his hands. After his release, he begged Maria's mother for forgiveness, and she forgave him because her daughter had forgiven him on her deathbed. They went to Mass together and received communion side by side. Afterward, Alessandro prayed for Maria to intercede for him daily, and was present when she was canonized in 1950. He ended his life as a lay brother in a Capuchin monastery where he worked at receptionist and gardener.

Given this society's attitude of unconditional vengeance for any crime, what is our attitude as Christians to be toward people who disagree with us or oppose us? Is it Christian to demonize a political figure, an entertainer, a foreigner who may be hostile? Is it Christian to say anyone who lives and bleeds as we do deserves any less consideration as a human being because they hold viewpoints or act in ways we find offensive? If Alessandro had committed his crime here and now, he would surely be on death row and there would be people clamoring for his blood. There are not many criminals who could change as he did and criminals should doubtlessly be accountable for what they do, but how should his story affect our attitudes and shape our Faith as we look at the tragedies around us now?
