love. – Albert Einstein

* I don't understand why Cupid was chosen to represent Valentine's Day. When I think of

Notes from Fr. Keith, 2/13/2011

Jesus' Disciples asked Him how to pray and he told them. The result is the Lord's Prayer, which we pray every week during Mass, and is part of larger sets of prayers such as the Rosary. In looking at Jesus' model of prayer, it's good to reflect on what it asks and what it doesn't ask.

The Lord's Prayer asks for: an unconditional fulfillment of God's Will, and our basic needs (food, protection, mercy). It doesn't ask for OUR wants to be fulfilled. It doesn't ask God to make other people behave differently, or punish people who deserve it (which might be awkward since we ask God to be as merciful toward us as we are toward others). It is simple in form, and it begins and ends with God if we do the "doxology" portion ("...for the Kingdom, the Glory...")

Jesus' model of prayer is a prayer that directs us toward God, and seeks to place us more perfectly in sync with His action in the universe. That is something I think is very important as we consider our own expectations of prayer, and how we should approach any prayer we make.
