Respect Life Sunday News

*The Knights of Columbus are making a pilgrimage, this Sunday, to St. Patrick's Church, Laurie, Mo. In honoring mothers and Family life at Mary, Mother of Church National Shrine.

*Since 1972, a year before the U.S. Supreme Court made the shocking Roe V. Wade ruling that legalized abortion in the U.S., the first Sunday of October has been designated by the Church as Respect Life Sunday, also called Sanctity of Life Sunday. For more than 35 years now, the Catholic Church and others have dedicated the month of October, starting with the first Sunday, to extra time and resources in advancing the culture of life. This can be done through prayer, activism, and education against the falsehoods promoted by the pro-abortion advocates.

Notes from Fr. Keith Oct. 2, 2011

I always have mixed emotions about Fall. The changing of the leaves and the moderation of the climate are beautiful and welcome processes, yet I know that bare limbs and cold weather aren't far off. Every though it drives my allergies crazy, I miss the warmth of summer.

Perhaps Fall reminds us to live for today. There is always beauty around us, wherever we are, if we're able to see it. Sometimes it's easier to see, like when the trees are showing off their wonderful colors, and sometimes it's more difficult, in mid-winter when the brown grass is flecked by dry leaves. How we see life makes all the difference in the world. If we look for ugliness, then we always live in a bleak place. If we look for beauty, then it is easier to know that our God loves us and wants us to be happy.
